

DOES YOUR CITY HAVE A PLAN
FOR ITS ENERGY FUTURE?

Aggregation. It's a great concept: big benefits for energy users, and a fantastic opportunity for cities. It is also challenging to implement. Like any game involving strategy, success requires skills and insights.

Long term, aggregation means a supply portfolio that includes renewable resources. Real sustainability involves thinking many moves ahead, in a complex, changing environment.

Golden Energy has provided leadership in energy procurement for over two decades. Let us help you develop a winning game plan for your municipality's energy needs.
